Big Sales.

Don't forget those two big sales to be held in Stanford Tues. and Wednesday. See their large ad on the back page of this paper which gives you an idea of the fine stock to be sold. It would be worth your time to go to these sales even if you do not intend to buy.

Gambetta Wilkes Dead.

Gambetta Wilkes, one of the greatest sires of the harness horse world, is dead at the Cecil farm near Danville, Ky. He was twenty-nine years old, and was owned by G. and C. P. Cecil.
He was sire 221 horses in the 2:30 list, and held a record of 2:19. He was by George Wilkes, dam by Jewell.

Barbecue and Basket Dinner.

President Lebus, of the Burley Tobacco Society, and Congressman, A.
O. Stanley, one of the smartest men in the state, will address the tobacco growers at the Barbecue to be held in Paint Lick, Saturday, Sept. 3rd. A large crowd of people will be on hand to partake of the hospitality of the Society and to hear the tobacco question discussed by prominent men.

To make our school eminently successful there should be the co-operation of teachers, scholars and parents.
The first two we have. Will the parents now do their duty.

Judge Lewis L. Walker,

WHO WAS APPOINTED TO FILL THE VACANCY, IN THIS JUDICIAL DISTRICT, CAUSED BY THE DEATH OF JUDGE SAUFLEY.

It goes without saying that we are highly gratified over the appointment of our brother to the high and honorable office of Circuit Judge. While we are sure that he is competent, and that he will do justice in every instance, we prefer that others speak concerning his qualifications.

The following is contributed by a friend: Judge L. L. Walker was born on the 13th day of February 1853. He descended from a worthy and prominent ancestry. His father, Judge W. E. Walker, was born in Richmond, Ky. He married Miss Dorcas Leavelle, of Garrard County, in 1872, and soon thereafter located near Lancaster, where they owned valuable property. He was twice elected Judge of the County Court and was considered one of the best Judges the County ever had, but few appeals being taken from his decisions.

The subject of this sketch graduated at Central University, Richmond, Ky., in 1873 with high honors. He was always a student, and, from his youth, he has manifested remarkable mental power, with a love for logical research, and inquiry into the most abstruse subjects or questions, whether legal, literary or scientific. This love for investigation naturally developed an inclination to select the law, as his profession, where he could engage in the trial and discussion of questions of fact and equity. He read law with Senator W. O.
Bradley and entered the practice fully equipped, which he has proved by the extensive and lucrative practice which he has enjoyed, having been engaged in many of the most important cases, both civil and criminal.

He was twice married and twice he has been overwhelmed with grief over the death of her whom he had selected as a life companion. The first marriage was to Miss Eliza Lusk, who was County School Superintendent, and the second to Miss Grace Kinnaird, both of whom were intelligent ladies.
He has held several places of public trust and honor, among them, City and County Attorney; Attorney for the Louisville and Nashville Rail Road Co., The Citizens National Bank of Lancaster, The Peoples Bank of Paint Lick, The Bastin Telephone Co. and The Graded School. He has also served as U.
S. Commissioner and is now a Trustee of Kentucky State University of Lexington. The duties of these trusts were faithfully discharged, and the fact that they were imposed on him evinces the high esteem and confidence in which he is held. Such positions are not thrust upon those who are unworthy and incompetent.

With his friends he is sociable and affable. At the bar purity of diction, profound argument and a forceful and consistent presentation of facts are his chief characteristics. He combines the three requisites for pure official service—honesty, integrity and capability. Having been schooled in the principles of honor and justice, learned in the law and gifted by nature with mental vigor and power, the people's rights will be upheld and protected in civil and criminal actions. His friends and the people generally congratulate him, and predict an honest, brilliant and acceptable administration of justice during his incumbency. He realizes that, in our Government, all power is vested in the people; that their representatives make the laws, and that he is only a servant of the people to define the law and administer justice to all the people, and not to any party or faction. If, therefore, a law is odious it should be repealed, and the Judge should not be censured for enforcing it.
The administration of justice is a common and a mutual interest, and the people should uphold, protect and encourage their servants, who are guarding their lives, liberty and property.

A Good Meeting.

The meetings at the Baptist Church each afternoon and evening are well attended. Rev. J. E. Martin of Jellico, Tenn., a former schoolmate of Rev. O. P. Bush, is conducting the meeting. They attended school together at Georgetown. He is a forcible speaker and a good man and the people of our community will be greatly benefited if they attend the services and take an interest in them.

Institute at Danville is Well Attended.

The joint institute of the teachers of Boyle and Garrard counties is holding its annual meeting at the public school building in Danville this week.
Never in its history was so much interest manifested in the proceedings nor a larger or more enthusiastic crowd in attendance. The opening session was held Monday and besides practically all the teachers in the two counties many friends and patrons of the institute were present.

New Butcher Shop.

In connection with his large Grocery Store Mr. W. D. Walker will open up a Butcher shop and will handle nothing but first class meat and groceries. He has employed a meat cutter with twenty five years experience, and it is said, a good one. His store is next door to the National Bank and he has one of the best standards in the city and we see no reason why Mr. Walker should not make a success of his new business. He is especially anxious to meet the people who live in the county and claims that he is going to offer the farmers more for their butter and eggs than any one else pays, so invites all his old customers to continue to patronize him and that those who have never traded with him give him a trial.

A Public Nuisance.

It was contended by the representatives of the City of Lancaster in the recent litigation over the soft drink ordinance that the city did not exceed its constitutional rights in the ordinance prohibiting altogether the sale of drinks containing alcohol, but not in sufficient quantities to cause intoxication, because such resorts are known generally to be public nuisances. We think the contention good in morals and in fact, whether or not it is good in law. However we leave the legal phase of the question to the courts abiding the final decision without criticism or complaint.

We believe that the officers of the city have public approval in resisting in every legal way at their command, the establishing of such saloons in Lancaster. A near beer saloon can not possibly serve any good purpose in the community. It may furnish some person or persons a way to pocket a few dollars at the expense of the peace, good order and well being of the community.

The Council of the City has the unquestioned right to place upon such a business a licensed tax, and we suggest that it be of such an amount that it will not encourage the establishing of any in our city.

In the event these places are forced upon the people after all resistance is made, they can be controlled by the courts under the law prohibiting the establishing and maintaining a public nuisance, and we have every reason to believe that the officers of the city and county will see to it that the laws are observed governing such conditions.

Get ready for the big circus on Wednesday Sept. 21. The red lemonade man will be there.

School Opening.

Next Monday, September, 5th, the school opens for a nine months term.
As the school year is one month shorter than many of the best schools it will be necessary for work to begin on the very first day. We urge all patrons to see that every pupil is in school from the beginning. Those entering school for the first time should also begin at the first of the term.

The School Board has made a ruling that children who become six years old during the first term of the school year must enter at the beginning of the term, if they expect to become members of the school during the year, in order that they may be properly classified. It is easily seen that, with the large number of pupils in the primer grade, new classes cannot be formed for those who may drop in at any and all times during the year.

We are having the school building thoroughly cleaned, and shall do all we can to keep pupils in good health.
Each pupil will be required to keep an individual drinking cup. Large water coolers with close fitting top will be placed in each room. No open buckets will be used.

This should be the best year in the history of the school. All the teachers have been taking special work at various summer schools in order to prepare themselves for more efficient service. Now we ask the co-operation of patrons. The older pupils, those above the third grade, should have a regular time for home study. Parents are not asked to teach their children —that is the teachers' duty—but each home should have a table and light arranged every evening for the use of the children to whom home study shall have been assigned. Boys and girls who are in school ought to be at home every night, at least from Monday till Friday; and those who stay on the streets night after night can scarcely hope to hold any but the lowest places in their classes.

Monthly reports will be sent to parents and guardians during the school year instead of quarterly as heretofore.
We hope these reports may be closely inspected, and pupils may be commended or admonished accordingly, as the reports may be satisfactory or unsatisfactory.

We should like to have every patron of the school visit us at least once during the year, and frequently if convenient.

D. W. Bridges, Principal, Lancaster Graded School.

Farmers Institute A Failure.

Little interest was manifested by our people in the Farmers Institute last week. The Institute has been used by designing politicians for some time past to further personal ends and the farmers have lost interest in the institution. The gentlemen who are paid by the state were here to conduct the institute but few farmers were present to get the benefit of the instruction. At Thursday meeting J. E. Robinson was elected delegate and Alex Gibbs alternate to represent Garrard County in the next State Meeting of the Farmers Organization.

New Master Commissioner.

Judge Walker announces that he has decided who he will appoint Master Commissioner in Garrard and Boyle County.

In Garrard, he will appoint Mr. R.
H. Batson, who is a very capable man and one that deserves the appointment, having been one of the leaders in the Republican party in this County for years. We do not think Judge Walker could have made a more popular appointment or one that pleased the Republican party better.
In Boyle he will appoint the young insurgent republican, Hon. Logan Mc-Kee Cheek, a young lawyer of Danville. We understand that this will be a very popular appointment and will please the republicans of Boyle.

The applicants in Lincoln are Hon's George Davidson and George Florence and both are good men. There are several applicants in Mercer among them Mr. A. B. Robinson, who is a relative to the Robinsons in this county and a very popular man.

City Loses in Soft Drink Case.

Acting under the new Circuit Judges act, Governor Cox appointed Judge James Benton of the Winchester Judicial District to hold the Special Term of the Garrard Circuit Court last week. The case of W. R. Gott against E. W. Harris, police Judge of Lancaster was tried and decided in favor of the plaintiff, Gott. W. R.
Gott brought the suit against the police Judge to prohibit that officer from trying him upon a charge of violating an ordinance of the city prohibiting the sale of near beer and other malt drinks not intoxicating, but containing alcohol. The Court held the ordinance unconstitutional and void, and that the city had no right to prohibit the sale of such drinks.
Whether or not the city will appeal the case has not been determined.

No definite steps will be taken about the appeal until a city attorney is elected to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Judge L. L.
Walker, Circuit Judge.

Captured at Last.

John Graham, who attempted to assault little Mary Ashford near Clover Bottom, Woodford County, some weeks ago and who escaped from the Woodford County authorities by leaping from a train and hiding in the Kentucky river cliffs, has at last been recaptured. He was caught near Lowell early Monday morning by Sheriff Robinson and some Woodford County people and was landed in jail here until Monday night when he was removed to Woodford County, where he will be tried and dealt with according to law.

Good Luck For Major Wm. H. Collier.

Friends at home were pleased over the good fortune of Maj. Wm. H. Collier in receiving his appointment to the position of Revenue Agent in the Secret Service department with a salary of $3600.00 a year. Maj. Collier will have charge of Uncle Sam's business in this department in the states of Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan. That he is well equipped to perform the duties of his new position is well known, he having filled many places in the Governments service heretofore. Maj. Collier still calls Lancaster his home and nothing affords him as much pleasure as a week or two with his friends here every year.

The Courier Journal made the following announcement of the appointment:
Maj. W. H. Collier, of Louisville, yesterday morning received his commission from the Department of Internal Revenue at Washington as a revenue agent, which is in the secret service division. The appointment obtained by Maj. Collier boosts him from the position of division deputy under Collector Ludlow Petty, at a salary of $2,600 a year, to a $3,600 place. He was made a division deputy shortly after Mr. Petty became a collector at Louisville.

Yesterday Maj. Collier was assigned to duty with the Revenue Agent Shelly, of this city. It is expected that he will take charge of the revenue agency at Cincinnati upon the retirement next week of W. H. Bowen, who is to become postmaster at Covington, Ky. The Cincinnati agency is considered an excellent post.

The announcement of Maj. Collier's promotion was first made public in the city Thursday night by Senator W. O. Bradley, who was able to obtain the appointment for him. Maj. Collier is one of the most popular men in the revenue service. He was formerly an officer in the Spanish-American War.
